87TH YEAR | GETTYSBURG, PA., WEDNESDAY MAY 3, 1905 | NO. 36

PRISONERS ARE SENTENCED

FOUR SENT TO THE EASTERN PENITENTIARY.

The prisoners, all of whom had plead guilty, were brought to Court on Saturday afternoon for purpose of receiving their sentences. The Court addressing remarks to the prisoners generally said that the matter of passing sentence was a trying, embarrassing and important duty of the Court. The law fixed a maximum penalty but it was left to the discretion of the Court in each case to decide how much of the maximum penalty should be imposed for the ends of justice. There were two points of view to be kept in mind in exercising this discretion, first the reformation of the prisoner and second to make an example to deter others. In each case enough punishment should be meted out to accomplish these two results. It was not to be expected that sentences would meet the approval of all or be beyond criticism, but the punishment was fixed by the Court as seemed right in view of all the facts and circumstances that had come to the knowledge of the Court.

Joseph Yohe, guilty of stealing horse of James Ross was first called before the Court. Wm. Hersh, Esq., asked for a lenient sentence. He said that the prisoner had been drinking hard and at the end of a three day debauch had taken horse and gone to Emmitsburg and Thurmont. He continued his drinking until after a night's sleep he was sobered enough to appreciate fact that he had a horse that did not belong to him and then returned home and let horse go to be found and returned to its owner. A light sentence was asked because Yohe, 45 years of age, had never been arrested before, had never been in Court. He had a wife and six small children, the oldest about ten years old and the youngest a babe in arms several weeks old and for these mercy was asked. The Court said Mrs. Yohe had been before the three judges the evening before and her condition was indeed distressing. The prisoner was asked whether he would promise to stop drinking if a light sentence was given him. The promise was made and the Court said that the punishment must be to send him to the penitentiary but that the shortest sentence possible would be given and he was sentenced to one year in the penitentiary.

George Shaffer, guilty of stealing a piece of hose from the Globe Hotel, said he had been drinking when he took the same. It was the first conviction of the defendant and upon his promise to quit drinking, for this seemed to be the cause of his wrongdoing, he was sentenced to six months in jail.

Sylvester Rider, guilty of stealing chickens, had no excuse of drinking for his wrong-doing. He had lived 22 years in McSherrystown and throughout that section there had been numerous complaints of chicken stealing. It was told the Court that the man who had received the chickens had jumped his bail and gone to other parts. It was thought that chicken stealing had been made a systematic business by a gang to which defendant belonged. His reputation as an industrious citizen was not good. He was said to live largely by his wits and was sentenced to two years in the penitentiary.

James Pittenturf was told that though young in years he was an old criminal offender. His life was that of a reckless and abandoned criminal. This was fourth time he had been in court, first for assault with intent to rob and escaped by an acquittal, then for larceny and Court had warned him and given a light sentence in jail, again for larceny and the Court still in hope of his reformation had given him but one year in the penitentiary. The Court was of the opinion now that the prisoner must be severely punished for the good of society and for the shocking crime he had committed. The Court warned him that if he did not now reform and mend his ways he would become such an enemy of society as might spend most of his days behind the bars. The only extenuating circumstance was that he did not take the witness stand and commit perjury to his other crime. He was sentenced to eight years in the penitentiary. For entering bottling works he was sentenced to two years and for larceny of beer to two years but these last two sentences were to run concurrent with the first.

An appeal was made for Charles Trimmer. He was but 19 years of age and it was his first offense. He had been drinking and following Pittenturf who carried the bag of beer. He had been led into the commission of his crime by his associate. His mother's health was delicate and for her sake as well as other reasons a light sentence was asked. He was sentenced to two years in the penitentiary, and one year for entering bottling works and one year for stealing beer but the latter sentences to run concurrent with the first.

John Woodyard plead guilty to an assault and battery on Raymond Lewis and as he had been in jail seven weeks was given 10 days more in jail. The same defendant was called upon to answer in a surety of peace case with same prosecutor. The latter said that Woodyard had threatened to knock his block off and supposed he meant his head. Woodyard said he was pretty well filled up with liquor. Defendant's reputation was good when sober and was ordered to pay the costs in case.

Civil Cases Settled.

Ten cases made up the trial list of civil cases as published several weeks ago. Five of these were fixed for trial on Wednesday of last week, but when the day arrived four of these had been settled and the trial of other one fixed for another day.

The case of Daniel P. Wagner vs. Wm. T. Spangler, both of East Berlin, adjourned at January court because vocal chords of witness had been paralyzed was first case but it was ended by defendant paying plaintiff his claim of $38 for a balance on purchase of real estate and an admitted bill of material of about $6. Of course defendant had to pay the costs. C. W. Stoner and W. C. Sheely, Esqs., for plaintiff, J. L. Butt and S. S. Neely, Esqs., for defendant.

Michael Felix vs. E. M. Bittinger, an action of trespass appealed from docket of Justice V. H. Lilly, was settled by defendant paying plaintiff the damages awarded by the justice of $5.30 and all the costs, about six times the amount of the damages. E. A. Weaver, Esq., for plaintiff, C. E. Ehrehart and C. S. Duncan, Esqs., for defendant.

John Nevin Hake vs. Union Telephone and Telegraph Co. was settled by defendant giving plaintiff the one-fourtieth of the amount claimed by the papers filed, $20,000. The plaintiff had fallen from a pole that broke off while he was on it and was in hospital many weeks. The risk of winning in these cases is great as the law often says one takes the hazard of his employment, so a settlement of $500 seems fortunate. J. L. Butt, Esq., for plaintiff, Wm. McSherry, Esq. for defendant.

The Gettysburg and Harrisburg Railroad Company settled the action of trespass brought against it by J. L. Butt for the killing of the valuable son of Electric Bell and injuring two other young horses, the amount paid being private and not made public. J. L. Williams, Esq., for plaintiff, S. S. Neely, Esq., for defendant.

The first case in which a jury was sworn was that of the Com. vs. The Gettysburg Gas Company. This was the case in which defendant appealed from fine of $100 for allowing gas tar to escape into Rock Creek so as to kill all the fish and this appeal it was supposed was going to try the questions on their merits but ended in a legal battle of technicalities. The plaintiff insisted the Court did not have jurisdiction that the appeal should have been to the quarter sessions instead of the common pleas, and after plaintiff had submitted evidence of the killing of fish by gas tar, the defendant asked for a non-suit on ground that the section of act under which defendant was punished was unconstitutional and for further reason that there was no proof of the defendant intentionally putting gas tar into creek for purpose of killing the fish but that the gas tar escaped against the will of the company from its plant and did the injury contrary to the intentions of the company. The court ordered a compulsory non-suit, the legal significance of which is that the Gas Company escaped while the fish didn't. W. C. Sheely, Esq., for plaintiff, S. S. Neely, C. S. Duncan and D. P. McPherson, Esqs., for defendant.

The case of Hyman Lochman and Samuel Lochman trading as H. & S. Lochman vs. Hartford Fire Insurance Co., located at Hartford, Conn., was an action in assumpsit for $1,000 on a policy of insurance on stock of clothing in store in Yount building in Littlestown, which was burnt down last August. Roger G. Ill, Esq., of Baltimore, was associated with Hon. G. J. Benner for plaintiff and Francis Shuttock, Esq., of Philadelphia, with C. S. Duncan, Esq., for defendant.

Ellis Lachman manager of the store of H. & S. Lachman testified that he had been cleaning front door of store when explosion took place and was hurled into street. He produced inventory of stock and claimed there was $4000 worth of goods in store. He admitted having used gasoline in cleaning but did not have it constantly in the store room. The insurance Co. produced a number of witnesses who had detected odor of gasoline. A clerk of the Alleman Hardware Co. testified that he had sold Mr. Lachman a half gallon of gasoline on morning of day of the fire. D. B. Alleman, editor and proprietor of the Adams county Independent testified to conversations with Lachman in which admissions were made of having gasoline in store. The evidence was not completed until Friday. In charging the jury the court said that the question for their determination was whether plaintiffs had so habitually used gasoline as to make void their policy. That an occasional use was not contrary to the policy but it was the constant presence of it on the premises that made policy void. The policy sued on was for $1000 and jury Friday evening returned a verdict of $800. It is said that the jury separated damage done by explosion and damage by fire and as a compromise arrived at a figure less than policy.

The other two cases of H. & S. Lachman vs. The Fire Association of Philadelphia and The Farmer's Fire Insurance Company of York, Penna. were continued pending the first trial and will likely be settled in accordance with result in that case.

Case of John H. Miller vs. Penna Railroad Company was continued by reason of a settlement in progress. A sum had been agreed upon by J. L. Williams Esq. representing the plaintiff and N. M. Warner, Esq. for defendant but the conclusion arrived at had to be submitted to the company for approval and pending such approval case was continued.

One case remained for trial, George B. Hoover vs. John Kimple and a jury was drawn in case on Friday. All other jurors were then discharged and case adjourned until Monday morning when it was taken up for trial.

When this case was taken up on Monday, plaintiff asked for a continuance on ground that a material witness living in Maryland had promised to be present and had failed to appear and an opportunity to take the testimony on deposition was desired. The continuance was granted, plaintiff to pay costs of term. Joseph C. Brooks, Esq. of Westminister was admitted to Bar to take part in this trial.

The Court made an order directing county commissioners to pay to Chas. H. Wilson the $20 reward and mileage of 50 miles for capture of Joseph Yohe horse thief, being reward allowed by the law.

Bond of Chas. S. Duncan guardian of John A. Noel a feeble minded person was approved.

I. V. Small, James Devine Sr. of Conowago township and B. M. Miller of Oxford township were appointed viewers of bridge side over Willoughby Run at the place where the public highway leading from Fairfield and Gettysburg road to Keystone Mills crosses said run in Cumberland township.

Other court items will be found on page 2.

Court adjourned until May 15.

PROF. H. M. ROTH RE-ELECTED

HE SWEARS HE NEVER CONTRIBUTED TO POLITICAL FUNDS.

An Attempt to Exclude Public Was Hissed, Carried and Then Voted Down.

The school directors of Adams Co. met in session yesterday morning for the purpose of electing a County Superintendent of Public Schools for the next three years. Prof. H. Milton Roth called meeting to order. For President Calvin Rebert of Littlestown, had 41 votes, Wm. E. Kapp of Biglerville, 40 votes, and C. L. Longsdorff, 91 votes.

Just before Mr. Longsdorff took the chair Prof. Roth stated that a number of reports had been circulated about him all of which were false and that he took account of but one. He then read an affidavit, in which under oath he declared he had not contributed one penny to any political campaign fund before or since his election as superintendent and had kept out of politics. He said he made the sworn statement as a duty he owed the directors by reason of the position they had given him.

Dr. W. E. Krebbs of Littlestown, and W. D. C. Marshall of Hamiltonban were elected vice-presidents and D. C. Rudisill of Mountjoy, and Henry Butler of Conowago, as secretaries. Upon roll-call it was found that of the 210 directors in county 183 had responded and 24 had not responded to their names.

Upon motion of D. C. Rudisill the annual salary of superintendent for the next three years was fixed at $1500.

George R. Routsong of Bendersville, nominated H. M. Roth and nomination was seconded by Dr. T. C. Billheimer of this place, who said he had been tried and tested and there was not a solitary unfavorable criticism to be made of the manner in which he had discharged the duties of his office.

Charles H. Richter, of Berwick township, was nominated and Henry Butler of Conowago township, seconded his nomination, declaring that his 14 years of teaching in the same school had given a practical knowlege and experience, that his school had always been a model one and that in every way he was able to make a most efficient Superintendent.

The event of the meeting was upon motion of J. D. W. Deardorff to exclude the public while voting. Motion at first carried. Then an exception was made as to the press. W. W. Neely then moved to reconsider motion that spectators be requested to withdraw. C. L. Longsdorff seconded motion, and while it carried, yet when original motion was put spectators seemed to be excluded again. Directors insisted that voting was not understood. Hon. Theo. McAllister from audience declared the court room was a public hall and the public had a right to be there. W. W. Neely again moved to reconsider and that a rising vote be taken. This time no one would stand up for the original motion and every one got up to allow public to remain.

President Longsdorff refused to entertain notion to adjourn for dinner and ballot was then taken and it resulted in the election of Prof. H. Milton Roth as County Superintendent for three years. H. M. Roth having 101 votes, Charles H. Richter 75 votes and G. R. Thomas 8 votes.

Meeting then adjourned.

FACE LIKE PIECE OF RAW BEEF

Scalp Covered With Sores, Hair and Eye-Brows Fell Out—Agony for Eight Long Years — Doctors Were Unable to Cure.

SPEEDILY CURED BY CUTICURA

"I had suffered terrible agony and pain for eight long years from a terrible eczema on the scalp and face. The best doctors were unable to help me, and I had spent a lot of money for many remedies without receiving any benefit. My scalp was covered with scabs, my face was like a piece of raw beef, my eyebrows and lashes were falling out, and sometimes I felt as if I was burning up from the terrible itching and pain. I then began treating myself at home, and now my head and face are clear and I am entirely well. I first bathed my face with Cuticura Soap, then applied Cuticura Ointment to the afflicted parts, and took Cuticura Resolvent for the blood. I was greatly relieved after the first application, and continued use of Cuticura soon made a complete cure.—Miss Mary F. Fay, Westboro, Mass."

AGONIZING ECZEMA

Bathe the affected parts with hot water and Cuticura Soap, to cleanse the surface of crusts and scales, and soften the thickened cuticle; dry, without hard rubbing, and apply Cuticura Ointment freely, to allay itching, irritation, and inflammation, and soothe and heal; and, lastly, take Cuticura Resolvent Pills to cool and cleanse the blood. A single set is often sufficient to cure.

Cuticura Soap, Ointment, and Pills are sold throughout the world. Potter Drug & Chem. Corp., Boston, Sole Props. Send for "All About the Skin, Scalp, and Hair."

DEATH'S DOINGS IN COUNTY

Samuel Weigle.

Samuel Weigle, a well known citizen of Straban township, died Sunday morning April 23, at his home near Gulden's Station in the 73d year of his age. Mr. Weigle's wife died last winter. Deceased lived at one time in Hanover. The funeral was held on Tuesday afternoon of last week and interment was made in Mt. Olivet cemetery, Hanover. He leaves two sons and one daughter, Charles of Gulden's, William E. Weigle of St. Louis, Mo., and Mrs. Fannie Herbst at home. Two sisters and one brother survive, Mrs. John S. Young, Mrs. Sarah Stine and Luther Weigle, all of Hanover.

Charles J. Frock.

Charles Jeremiah Frock, only son of Mr. and Mrs. John D. Frock of McSherrystown, died on Saturday night April 22, after a brief illness from pneumonia, aged 17 years and one month. He was employed at tobacco factory of A. F. Hostetter and was remarkably tall for his age, 6 feet 2 inches. Funeral on Tuesday of last week. After services the body was taken to Littlestown and interred in Mt. Carmel cemetery. Besides his parents he is survived by an only sister, Miss Marion, at home.

The Eternal Fitness.

Is there an "eternal fitness?" This is the question that occurs to us in reading the following paragraph from an article on "The American Girl Abroad," by Constance Fuller McIntyre, in the May "New Idea Woman's Magazine:"

"In her own country an American girl will sometimes, especially on a comparatively short journey, wear a large hat, too showy and conspicuous to be really in good taste for traveling. She may even be aware of this herself, but prefers to wear it—either because this plan seems the more sensible as the hat would be difficult to pack satisfactorily, or because she expects to see someone whose opinion she values en route, and fancies herself more in that than a less conspicuous hat." If the hat was likely to be spoiled by packing, was it not more fitting to wear it, and does the American girl not show more good sense, which is always in good taste, than the English girl who, Mrs. McIntyre avers, "would never allow these considerations to cause her to wear the gay hat, though she might have to take a separate hat box as hand baggage to avoid doing so"? In regard to social matters, Mrs. McIntyre proceeds to draw a line between the attitude of the English girl and the American girl. "The latter, when abroad," she says, "is generally distinguished by her unusually large capacity for enjoying herself, and, indeed, for making the best of any man in whose society she happens to find herself. . . An English girl is haunted and handicapped by a hundred fears, such as that if she notices a man too much before he shall have displayed a particular interest in her, he may imagine that she is running after him, has lost her heart to him, or is even a little fast."

About Old Furniture.

Writing on "Old Chairs" in the May Delineator, N. Hudson Moore gives some interesting facts in regard to this section of antique furniture:

"The oldest piece of cabinet maker's work known is Queen Hatasu's chair, of the eighteenth Egyptian dynasty, 1,600 years before the Christian era. It is made of ivory, ebony and various metals, and is in the British Museum. London. There is another old chair whose early history is so enveloped in legend and myth that it is impossible to tell where tradition ends and truth begins. This is the Coronation chair of England, in which all English sovereigns since 1273 have been crowned. It was Chippendale who first used mahogany to any great extent, and one cause which led to this was that he was primarily a wood-carver, and this close grained wood gave beautiful effects. He never used inlay in any form, and if this fact is borne in mind, there will be fewer mistakes in assigning to him furniture ornamented in this way. Fashions have more to do with shapes in furniture than one would deem possible. Immense hoop-skirts could not be comfortably placed in an arm chair, so chairs without arms became the mode. Chairs with large seats must have large legs to support them, and large legs must have underbraces, so there we have a reason for many of the styles of the late 18th century. We are apt to say of our old furniture, 'It was brought from England,' because we doubt the fact that there were cabinet-makers at work here who were able to do it. But they were here and at work as early as 1622, and in all the towns near Boston, such as Salem, Lynn, Marblehead and Weymouth, there were many cabinet-makers who were capable of turning out good work. By 1700 Spanish mahogany was for sale in logs or planks, and the necessary brass fittings to go on the furniture were at first imported, but they were soon made here. Besides the regular makers of furniture, many 'handy men' who could use tools eked out a narrow income by making chairs for sale, or made them for use at home."

A Trip of an Electric Spark.

The time it takes an electric spark to travel around the globe, says the "Chicago Daily Review," will be the interesting experiment to be tried at midnight May 3-4 (tonight) under the auspices of Rear Admiral C. M. Chester, who is in charge of the naval observatory at Washington. Rear Admiral Chester will originate the spark, and every observatory and telegraph station in the world is asked to be on the lookout for it and to make a note of the time of its arrival. The experiment is to be in honor of the assembling of the international railway congress at Washington May 4. Beginning at 11.55 p. m., the seconds will be ticked off on the telegraph wire just as the "noon signal" is now sent throughout the United States every day. Every telegraph and cable company is asked to co-operate, and it is hoped to secure a continuous metallic circuit around the earth. The spark will travel from Washington to San Francisco, from there to Honolulu, thence to Guam and the Midway Islands, from there to Manila, thence to Hong Kong, thence to Singapore and Calcutta, via the Suez Canal to Europe, arriving at London, where it will cross by Atlantic cable to New York and thence back to Washington. This will be the direct route of the spark, but it will be communicated over a great network of branching lines. These signals are expected to aid in the determination of exact longitude of stations where they are received, and to help in the regulation of local time in all parts of the world.

York County Judgeship.

Judge W. F. Bay Stewart of York has been importuned on the question of a re-nomination until he has declared himself saying

"I have been saying all along that I am not a candidate for the judgeship; but that does not mean that I would not accept the nomination if I am fully convinced that there was a general demand for me to retain the office. I dislike political contests, and do not care to enter into one for the judgeship. It is beneath the dignity of a judge on the bench to go into a political scramble for a nomination, and I will not do it."

Get SCOTT'S Emulsion

When you go to a drug store and ask for Scott's Emulsion you know what you want; the man knows you ought to have it. Don't be surprised, though, if you are offered something else. Wines, cordials, extracts, etc., of cod liver oil are plentiful but don't imagine you are getting cod liver oil when you take them. Every year for thirty years we've been increasing the sales of Scott's Emulsion. Why? Because it has always been better than any substitute for it.

NEW LAWS TO BE GUIDED BY

SOME OF THE ACTS OF THE LAST LEGISLATURE.

Sheep Killed by Dogs Must be Buried—Felony to Steal Electric Wires—Humane Education.

The last Legislature passed many vicious acts under the lash of the corrupt machine, and also many act which the Governor has and will veto, yet it added a less amount of new law to the statutes of the state than has happened for a number of years. It was the shortest session for years. If shortness will save the state from being too much governed, biennial small doses should be made the rule.

The bills as fast as they are approved by the Governor are put in type and advance proof-sheets made. Up to April 10, 105 bills had been so finished and from these the following list is made of such acts as may be of special interest to this county.

An amendment to act giving damages for sheep killed by dogs by which the carcases of the sheep killed must be buried within twenty-four hours after the assessment of damages by auditors and owners of sheep, killed by dogs, shall be paid 50 cents each for burial of sheep killed.

An act making it a felony to steal, cut or break any wire forming part of any telegraph, telephone, electric light, electric railway or other company transmitting electricity by wire, punishable by penitentiary imprisonment.

An act to prevent duplicating informations, warrants, indictments, subpoenas and other writs in criminal cases for purpose of making costs.

An act to make it a misdemeanor for any person to have in their possession burglary tools.

An act prohibiting the furnishing of cigarettes or cigarette paper by gift, sale or otherwise to any person or persons under the age of 21 years under heavy penalty.

An act prohibiting the sale and use of fire-works containing picric acid or picrates, and explosive canes and ammunition using chlorate of potash or other high explosive substance.

An act requiring all druggists and qualified assistants to be graduates of some reputable and properly chartered college of pharmacy.

An act to provide a system of humane education in the public schools, to include kind treatment of birds and animals. Instruction to be given in fourth grade and to cover half an hour each week during the whole term of school. No experiment to demonstrate in physiology is permitted and teachers to certify in monthly reports that instruction has been given.

An act requiring all practitioners of veterinary medicine to report to State Life Stock Sanitary Board the following diseases among animals which shall come to their notice: Glanders, anthrax, black leg, or black quarter, contagious pleuro-pneumonia, or lung plague, underpest or cattle plague, haemorrhagic septicaenna, foot or mouth disease, or aphthous fever of cattle, southern cattle fever or Texas fever, sheep scab, mange of cattle or horses, hog cholera, or swine plague, rabies or hydrophobia, maladie de coit, or eldurine of horses, advanced or generalized tuberculosis or tuberculosis of udder. Report shall describe animal and name owner.

An act authorizing the State Live Stock Sanitary Board to conduct scientific investigations in relation to causes, nature and prevention of diseases of domestic animals.

An act prohibiting the keeping of tree, shrub, vine and plant affected with San Jose scale or other insect or disease such as crown-gall, black knot or peach yellows.

An act providing for necessary medical attention at public expense to needy persons who may be in danger of suffering from hydrophobia, including the Pasteur treatment.

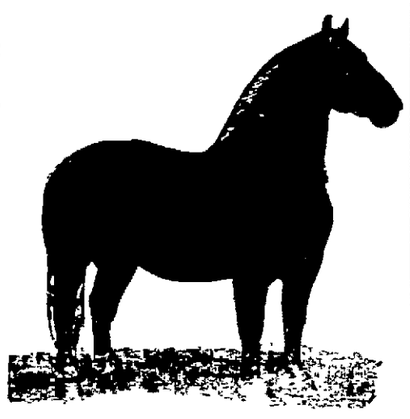

An act making all state forest reservations liable to a tax of three cents an acre each year for school purposes and two cents an acre for road purposes and to be paid by the state to the respective districts in which reservations are situated.

An act authorizing boroughs to pay the Burgess a sum not to exceed $50 annually for each 1,000 inhabitants or fraction thereof.

An act to encourage the preservation of forests by providing that where there are 50 trees to an acre, measuring 8 inches in diameter 6 feet above surface, the owner shall have a rebate of 80 per cent. of all taxes, local and county assessed on timberland and no owner to receive rebate on more than 50 acres.

An amendment making it compulsory on the application of ten reputable freeholders, for the County Commissioners to furnish a metal, terra cotta or marker of other suitable material for grave of every soldier and sailer.

An act giving school directors $2.00 a day and mileage of 3 cents per mile to attend an annual school directors' convention, out of the school funds of their districts, but this expense shall not be paid for more than two days of any annual meeting.

HOW TO HOLD A HUSBAND.

The best known guide to married happiness is to hold the husband as you won the lover—by cheerfulness of disposition, patience and keeping your youthful looks. Of course a great many women are handicapped by those ills to which women are heir. The constantly recurring troubles which afflict her are apt to cause a sour disposition, nervousness and a beclouded mind.

Dr. R. V. Pierce, the specialist in woman's diseases, of Buffalo, N. Y., after a long experience in treating such diseases, found that certain roots and herbs made into a liquid extract, would help the majority of cases. This he called Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. Thousands of women have testified to its merits, and it is put up in shape to be easily procured and is sold by all medicine dealers. This is a potent tonic for the womanly system. So much faith has Dr. Pierce in its merits that he offers $500 reward for any case of Leucorrhea, Female Weakness, Prolapsus, or Falling of Womb, which he cannot cure. All he asks is a fair and reasonable trial of his means of cure.

Mrs. T. Dolan, of Madrid, Perkins Co., Nebr., writes: "I was cured of painful periods by the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, and his Compound Extract of Smart-Weed. I think Dr. Pierce's medicines the best in the world."

"Favorite Prescription" makes weak women strong, sick women well. Accept no substitute for the medicine which works wonders for weak women.

QUARTER SESSIONS WORK

ENDS OF THE CRIMINAL BUSINESS OF LAST WEEK.

Two Bridges Favorably Reported—Two More Wanted—Commissioners in 3 Divorce Cases.

In addition to bills of indictment acted upon by Grand Jury as reported last week, they passed upon following:

Com. vs. Sylvester Rider, larceny of chickens on information of H. M. Golden, a true bill and defendant plead guilty.

Com. vs. Henry Martin, receiving stolen goods on information of Edmond Rider, a true bill and defendant not appearing his recognizance was forfeited.

Com. vs. J. Edward Reiling, charged with forcibly entering dwelling on information of James B. Dittenhafer was returned not a true bill and prosecutor to pay the costs. Dittenhafer was sentenced by the Court to pay the costs and to remain in custody of sheriff until paid. He told the Court he was insolvent and is in jail. These cases grew out of an attempt to interfere with Deputy Sheriff Reiling in the discharge of his duties.

Com. vs. Harry Linn, charged with forgery on oath of Horace F. Smith was found a true bill and process was awarded for defendant's arrest. The cashing of forged check cost Mr. Smith several hundred dollars and defendant will receive a warm reception when he next visits these parts.

Com. vs. John E. Rinehart, fornication and bastardy on information of Vertie E. Deatrick was found a true bill and process for arrest of defendant was awarded.

The consideration of the above cases ended the work of the Grand Jury as far as criminal cases were concerned.

Com. vs. H. L. Haines and J. Fred. Holtzinger. A decision of the Superior Court is awaited in case of Com. vs. N. G. Meads and the above case will likely be finally disposed of at August court.

Com. vs. Charles Elder, charged with fornication and bastardy by Minnie Stremmel, recognizance for appearance of defendant at August court was renewed.

Com. vs. Luther A. Yohe, charged with fornication and bastardy by Mabel E. Stambaugh, recognizance to next court renewed.

A number of cases were settled as follows:

Com. vs. Philip Hoffman, charged with assault and battery and surety of the peace by Wm. H. Frock.

Com. vs. William Murren, charged with assault and battery and aggravated assault and battery by W. G. Smith.

Com. vs. Raymond Harner, charged by Curtis W. Harner with surety of peace and by T. O. Gouker with carrying concealed deadly weapon.

There were three returns from justices of the peace involving cases not yet ready to go to Grand Jury and they remained undisposed. They were:

A Royal Slave.

No period in the romantic history of Mexico is more interesting than the short and brilliant reign and meteor-like fall of the Emperor Maxmilian. It is during this period that the story of "A Royal Slave" is laid. The leading characters are of the proud old Castilian stock of the aristocratic families of Mexico, and the Royal Slave himself, El Aguila—the Eagle—is the last descendant of the Montezumas, the ancient Aztec Kings, but himself a peon or slave of the family De Oro. His is a splendid life picture of a race now scarcely more than a memory, and is a strange combination of kingly majesty, gentle tenderness, and lion-like fierceness—a splendid barbarian. The company is a splendid one throughout, and the atmosphere and locale are finely carried out by the beautiful scenery and elaborate costumes. It is a play that an auditor will long remember with pleasure when the cheap, trashy, catch-penny productions are forgotten.

Gordon & Bennett's great company will present "A Royal Slave" in Xavier Hall, Friday evening May 5.

Hanover Monument.

Governor Pennypacker traveled to Hanover, Tuesday of last week and met Dr. Daniel Eberly, a member of the monument commission, Col. John P. Nicholson was prevented from attending meeting.

The Governor was driven to square, heard expressions about site and then declared himself. The fountain should be retired to another spot and the equestrian monument given its place. The fountain was no longer an ornament. Figures were worn and it was never intended to be permanent, but the bronze statue will last forever. It would be a pity if local sentiment would fail to catch the broad thought which moves humanity to perpetuate the memorty of an event that will last for all time. During the discussion he made the comment that "It is unfortunate that the controversy did not arise before the monument bill was passed."

Horses In the Time of Homer.

The horses used in Homer's time were war horses. The warriors were drawn in chariots. The art of riding was known, but it is alluded to as something unusual. Ulysses at the time of his shipwreck "bestrode a plank, like a horseman on a big steed." There are reasons for believing that the practice of riding was much later than that of driving, and the myth of the centaur, where, according to Shakespeare, "man is incorpsed and deminatured with the beast," probably originated at an early period when the appearance of a man on horseback was a novel sight.

A Snub For Moliere.

A remarkable incident is reported for a suburban theater in Paris. The play was "Tartuffe," and at the end of the fourth act the manager of the company came in front of the curtain and said, "Ladies and gentlemen, we shall not go any further with this piece, for the fifth act is unworthy of Moliere." How the audience took this announcement is not stated. Perhaps they went home and read the fifth act critically in the seclusion of the library.

Couldn't Lift Ten Pounds.

Doan's Kidney Pills Brought Strength and Health to the Sufferer, Making Him Feel Twenty-Five Years Younger.

Sick kidneys cause a weak, lame or aching back, and a weak back makes a weak man. Can't be well and strong until the kidneys are cured. Treat them with Doan's Kidney Pills. Here's the testimony of one man cured.

J. B. CORTON.

J. B. Corton, farmer and lumberman, of Deppe, N. C., says "I suffered for years with my back. It was so bad that I could not walk any distance nor even ride in easy buggy. I do not believe I could have raised ten pounds of weight from the ground, the pain was so severe. This was my condition when I began using Doan's Kidney Pills. They quickly relieved me and now I am never troubled as I was. My back is strong and I can walk or ride a long distance and feel just as strong as I did twenty-five years ago. I think so much of Doan's Kidney Pills that I have given a supply of the remedy to some of my neighbors and they have also found good results. If you can sift anything from this rambling note that will be of any service to you, or to any one suffering from kidney trouble, you are at liberty to do so."

A FREE TRIAL of this great kidney medicine which cured Mr. Corton will be mailed on application to any part of the United States. Address Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y. Sold by all dealers; price, fifty cents per box.

THE SMALLER COLLEGES.

It is said Andrew Carnegie is devoting more donations toward the smaller colleges than in any other direction at present. It has been intimated that Cettysburg College may have his aid. If the authorities of college have not already sought it, why should they not seek some one who might be able to successfully approach the Iron Master or some other millionaire philanthropically inclined to the colleges. The smaller colleges where a student can obtain an education for $200 a year if expenses are kept at a minimum are objects of benefactions of incalculable good. Gettysburg College to go forward needs just such help as a Carnegie could give and needs all that can be obtained if a half million or more.

KNIGHTS OF THE GOLDEN EAGLE

Biglerville, May 2.—The Knights of the Golden Eagle are hard at work to increase their membership in Adams county, when the first castle has been instituted at Biglerville. On Monday evening twenty-seven new candidates were admitted and the degree work was performed by a degree team from Lancaster, assisted by a few officers of the Grand Castle of Pennsylvania. Before the meeting a street parade was held headed by the Citizens Band and in command of Colonel L. L. Gallagher. El Dale Heighes marched at the head of the column and the marching knights made a favorable impression on the people, who turned out en masse to witness the demonstration.

William Penn Castle, No. 141, now has sixty members and this number will be further increased and other castles organized in the county. The Knights of the Golden Eagle have 45,000 members in this state located in 335 cities and towns.

Republican State Convention.

In 90 minutes without recess the Republican State Convention last week put through the orders the Bosses had given. J. Lee Plummer of Blair county was nominated for State Treasurer and Superior Court Judges Rice. Orlady and Beaver were elected to succeed themselves.

Sprayed Orchards.

Through the fruit belt in this county thousands of trees have been already sprayed with lime, sulphur and salt. The orchards look as though covered with hoar frost or with a veil. It has taken much work to so protect the trees from the scale. A. I. Weidner of Arendtsville used 2,400 gallons of the mixture in spraying.

BELL OF APPLE BLOSSOMS

THOSE WHO MARRY WERE AMONG THE MARRIED.

Hetrick—Deatrick.

Under a beautiful floral bell of apple blossoms and smilax, Miss Margie M., only daughter of Mrs. Clara Deatrick of this place and Rev. W. H. Hetrick, pastor of Calvary Lutheran church, of Brooklyn, N. Y., were married at one o'clock p. m. on last Thursday at the home of the bride on Chambersburg street. The home was beautifully decorated with apple blossoms, ferns and potted plants making a charming picture of a spring wedding. About 75 guests were present.

The wedding party entered the parlors while Miss Fannie Seiling, of York, played Mendelssohn's wedding march and during the ceremony "Spring Song." First entered the groom with Rev. John G. Koser, of Seminary as best man. The bridesmaid, Miss Dora Hetrick, of Harrisburg, sister of the groom, followed and then the bride on the arm of her brother, Dr. David P. Deatrick, of Middletown, who gave the bride away. Rev. Dr. Jacob Clutz performed the ceremony, the ring service being used.

The bride wore a beautiful gown of white crepe de chene and carried a shower bouquet of white roses. The bridesmaid wore white chiffon taffeta and carried white roses.

After the ceremony a reception was held and the best wishes of their many friends extended them. Rev. and Mrs. Hetrick left on the 3.52 train on the Western Maryland on a wedding trip, winding up at their furnished home at 17 Suydam Place, Brooklyn.

The out of town guests were Mr. and Mrs. David Hetrick, of Harrisburg, father and mother of groom, Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Hoover, of Harrisburg, Miss Mary Seiling, of Baltimore, Miss Fannie Seiling, of York, Miss Annabelle Deatrick, of Martinsburg, W. Va., Miss Melda Saylor, of Pittsburg, Miss Alice Miller, of McKnightstown, Miss Blanche Deatrick, of Table Rock, Samuel Deatrick, of York Springs, Prof. D. C. Jacobs, of Millersville State Normal School and Dr. J. O. Lessig, of Schuylkill Haven.

Lamberton—Clabaugh.

Few prettier weddings have marked the season, says the "Washington Star," than that on Saturday afternoon at St. Thomas Church, Washington, when the rector, Rev. C. Earnest Smith, D. D., performed the marriage service for Miss Helen Margaret Clabaugh, daughter of Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of the District and Mrs. Claybaugh, and Mr. Benjamin Paulding Lamberton, Jr., son of Rear Admiral Lamberton, U. S. N., and formerly of Washington. The church was thronged with the friends and relatives of the couple. A beautiful arrangement of palms, marguerites and Easter lillies adorned the chancels. Mr. A. M. Jackson of Schenectady, was best man. The bride, who was escorted by her father, was preceded by six bridesmaids, Miss Emily Brune, Miss Pansy Lyon, of Baltimore, Miss Elizabeth Lamberton, Miss Mary Lamberton, Miss Constance Adee and Miss Blanche Burrell and Miss Catherine Claybaugh, maid of honor. The bridal toilet was an exquisitely dainty one of white liberty satin, the bodice trimmed with duchess lace. An enveloping veil of tulle was crowned with orange blossoms and she carried a shower bouquet of lillies of the valley and bride roses. The maid of honor was in white chiffon with a large hat and carried a bouquet of yellow marguerites. The bridesmaid's dresses were of yellow chiffon cloth, their lace hats being tied under the chin with yellow ribbon and wreathed with roses and foliage. The entire effect was exceptionally becoming and dainty.

Smith—Fitz.

The marriage of Rev. John Hamilton Smith, pastor of Redeemers Reformed church of Littlestown and Miss Mary Elizabeth Fitz of Hanover took place in Emmanuel's Reformedchurch Hanover, last Wed. afternoon at 12.30. Preceding the ceremony there was an organ recital by Mr. Frysinger. The choir of the church sang "Lohengrin" wedding chorus as the bride entered church on the arm of her father, preceded by the ushers and Miss Estelle Fitz of Washington D. C., maid of honor. They were met at altar by groom and best man A. C. Moore of Lancaster and were married by Rev. Dr. O. K. Spessard of Mifflinburg, Pa. an uncle of bride assisted by Rev. Ellis S. Hay, pastor of church.

The brides gown was of white messaline, trimmed with chiffon and old lace and she wore a veil fastened by a wreath of lillies of the valley and carried bouquet of brides roses. The maid of honor was attired in a lace robe over blue, wore a picture hat and carried pink roses.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at home of bride and bride and groom then left on a wedding trip after which they will be at home at Reformed parsonage in Littlestown.

This church is the first pastorate of the groom. The wedding was attended by large number of relatives and friends. Among the ushers was Dr. Harry E. Gettier of Littlestown.

Palmer—Day

At the home of the bride, residence of Geo. W. Day in Huntington township on April 22. Harry Palmer of Harrisburg and Susan Day were married by Rev Miller of Harrisburg.

Carbaugh—McClean.

Henry A. Carbaugh and Amanda S. McClean, both of Hamiltonban township, were married on April 26 by Rev. Dr. Jacob A. Clutz, at the parsonage in this place.

Entertainments.

The High School Alumni on Wednesday evening of last week in Xavier Hall played "A Scrap of Paper" to a large audience and won much praise by the great degree of excellency shown. The stage effects were beautiful and largely due to H. O. Himes of this place who loaned many articles for the occasion and who was untiring in his efforts not only to train those who took a part in the play but also to stage the play effectively. The whole show was a great credit to everyone who had anything to do with it and it can be said that the entertainments by home talent are becoming much better and are thoroughly enjoyed. The cast was made up as follows: Prosper Courament, John S. Gilbert; Baron de la Glaciere, Mark K. Eckert; Brisemouche (Landed Proprietor and Naturalist, Raymond Topper; Anatole (his ward) Emmor Rice; Baptista (servant) James Long; Francois (servant to Prosper) James Long; Louise de la Glaciere, Daisy Long; M'dle Suzanne de Russville (her cousin) Louise Stahle; Mathilde (sister to Louise) Nina Thorn; M'dle Zenobie (sister to Brisemouche) Lily Dougherty; Madame Dupont (housekeeper) Flo Blocher; Pauline (maid) Alice Williams.

Music for the occasion was furnished by the college orchestra. It was fine and the audience could not get enough of it and called for encore after encore.

Piano Recital.

The piano recital in the lecture room of the Presbyterian church on last Saturday evening attracted a large audience. It was the second appearance in this place of Miss Marion Rous and she was assisted by Miss Cornelia Walter. Miss Rous is a delightful interpreter of the masters of piano music and the singing of Miss Walter is always a treat to hear and especially so on this occasion, as she sung two songs of Miss Rous' composition and one of her own. The entire program was as follows:

Robert Schumann, Novelette in F, and Two Romances; Joachim Raff, Rigaudon, by Miss Rous.

Marion Rous, two songs, Good Night and "When I am Dead;" Reynaldo Hahn, "Si mes vers avaient des ailes;" Cornelia Walter, The Wander-Thirst, by Miss Walter.

Moritz Moszkowski, Gondoliera; Fr. Chopin, Andante Spianato, Polonaise, by Miss Rous.

The W. C. T. U. will meet with Mrs. Calvin Hamilton on Saturday next at 3 p. m.

Conviction Follows Trial

When buying loose coffee or anything your grocer happens to have in his bin, how do you know what you are getting? Some queer stories about coffee that is sold in bulk, could be told, if the people who handle it (grocers), cared to speak out.

Could any amount of mere talk have persuaded millions of housekeepers to use the leader of all package coffees for over a quarter of a century, if they had not found it superior to all other brands in Purity, Strength, Flavor and Uniformity?

Lion Coffee,

This popular success of LION COFFEE can be due only to inherent merit. There is no stronger proof of merit than continued and increasing popularity.

If the verdict of MILLIONS OF HOUSEKEEPERS does not convince you of the merits of LION COFFEE, it costs you but a trifle to buy a package. It is the easiest way to convince yourself, and to make you a PERMANENT PURCHASER.

LION COFFEE is sold only in 1 lb. sealed packages, and reaches you as pure and clean as when it left our factory.

BOATING ON THE NILE.

The Best Pilots Run Aground Two or Three Times a Day.

Navigation on the Nile is not so complicated a matter as upon the north Atlantic, writes Alonzo Clarke Robinson in Outing. To run at full speed upon a sand bar is an occurrence of such frequency as hardly to elicit a comment from the passengers. The crew take more interest because they are obliged to push the boat off again with poles, and this entails a great amount of shouting and some work. The Nile below the first cataract is a fairly broad, muddy river, flowing between deposed banks varying from six to eight to twenty to thirty feet in height. Its surface is interrupted everywhere by sand spits and islands upon which are to be seen thousands of birds. The channel, if such it can be called, winds from one side to the other and changes completely with every flood; hence even the best pilots run aground two or three times a day. It is, of course, impossible to proceed at night, and each day's voyage comes to an end wherever darkness happens to overtake one. The boat's nose is simply run plump on the bank, two men leap out and drive stakes to which to make fast, and there you are for the night. A very simple and effective method, without any ostentation and requiring very little knowledge of mathematics; it has also the advantage of variety. Sometimes one finds oneself alone beneath the wonderful Egyptian moon lighting up the river, the distant cliffs and the silent, empty plain, or perhaps one stops near some little native village, in which case the bank is lined with silent, curious figures, who crouch for hours wrapped in their white cloth coverings. Once we tied up beside a lonely brick kiln. The sight was a weird one. The red flare of the furnace, fed with sugar cane, cast intermittent flashes of light into the night, in and out of which moved black half naked natives, while overhead was the cloudless, star lit sky of Egypt.

OUR INAUGURAL OATH.

It Is the Shortest and Simplest Taken by Any Ruler.

The oath of office taken by the incoming president of the United States is the shortest and the simplest required of any ruler on earth. It is prescribed by the constitution and is as follows.

"I do solemnly swear (or affirm) that I will faithfully execute the office of president of the United States, and, to the best of my ability, protect, preserve and defend the constitution of the United States."

This oath is slowly repeated by the president elect after the chief justice of the supreme court, in the presence of the public upon a platform erected in front of the main door on the eastern side of the capitol. While the oath is being repeated the president elect and the chief justice face each other and hold with their right hands between them a Bible furnished by some person interested or especially procured for the occasion, which becomes the property of the president after it has been appropriately inscribed and sealed by the chief clerk of the supreme court.

At the close of the oath the president elect bows his head and kisses the open page of the book, and it has been customary for him or for his wife or a friend to select some appropriate passage at which the book shall be opened and the verse upon which he shall press his lips. Sometimes, when those interested forget or neglect to choose a passage, the Bible is opened at random, but the clerk of the supreme court is always careful to note and mark the exact place where the lips touched the page.—Chicago Record-Herald.

The Horseshoe Legend.

Here is an explanation of the old horseshoe superstition: St. Dunstan was a skilled farrier. One day while at work in his forge the devil entered in disguise and requested Dunstan to shoe his "single hoof." The saint, although he recognized his malign customer, acceded, but caused him so much pain during the operation that Satan begged him to desist. This St. Dunstan did, but only after he had made the evil one promise that neither he nor any of the lesser evil spirits, his servants, would ever molest the inmates of a house where the horseshoe was displayed.

A Servile House of Lords.

When King Henry VIII.'s name was spoken in his presence in the house of lords every peer prostrated himself with Asiatic servility. An entry in the records of the house gives the substance of a speech delivered by the chancellor on Jan. 16, 1541, in which the king's goodness and wisdom are extolled, and it tells us that whenever his majesty was mentioned, "which happened often," all the lords prostrated themselves, bowing to the ground as one man.

Force of the Future.

Cut off the future, and man is the most timid of creatures. The demons and dragons are too terrible for him to face and attack. But spread before him the illimitable future, and he will dare all things, certain of victory at last. Any night, however filled with weeping, can be endured by one who knows that joy is coming in the morning.

A SEA YARN

[Original.]

We were lying at anchor in the harbor of Rio de Janeiro. The night was hot, but beautiful. To the north were the lights of the city. Above was the spangled dome, while southward blazed the constellation of the Southern Cross.

We were to sail the next morning for New York, and it was known among us that we were to carry $200,000 of gold coin to New York. No one should have known of this treasure except the officers. The secret came out in this way: The men wanted to go ashore for a final spree. The captain, who was a weak man, in order to excuse himself for not permitting them to go told of the treasure. But the weakest thing he did was to let them go after telling them the reason why they should stay. The captain, the first mate and I (second mate) remained aboard. The captain was smoking on the poop deck; the first mate was pacing the forward deck; I was leaning over the gunwale amidships looking down into the water. Slipping off my clothes, I descended by the ladder hanging from the gangway and plunged in for a swim. The water was refreshing, and as the moon was rising there was plenty of light. The consequence was that I swam as far from the ship as I liked.

I was some 200 yards astern when I heard the sound of oars and, raising my head, saw a dark object coming from the city. I did not doubt that it was the boat containing the crew coming from their spree. I was surprised, however, that they were so quiet. Usually on such occasions they were very noisy.

I started to swim to the ship, but they reached it before me. I heard the mate sing out "Boat ahoy!" but did not hear the answer. The boat's crew climbed the ladder and went aboard. I heard a scuffle, and a moment later a heavy object dropped in the water. The tide was going out, but I kept ahead of it in the direction of the ship. Presently something floated by me. By the light of the moon, which by this time was well up above the horizon, I saw the upturned ashen face of the first mate. I soon heard a second splash and knew that the captain had met a similar fate.

It was now all perfectly plain to me. The men who had gone ashore had been babbling in their cups and had been overheard by some person or persons who had taken advantage of their absence to capture the treasure they had talked about. I knew the robbers had possession of the ship, and what to do myself I could not determine. Possibly I might swim the distance to the shore, but I didn't like the idea of leaving these men to make away with the treasure, there being no evidence of their identity. While I was deliberating I heard the anchor chain rattling through the hawse pipe and knew the captors were intending to make sail, or, rather, drift out of the harbor, for there was no wind. I listened, hoping to hear the sound of oars indicating the return of the crew, but heard no such sound. The ship drifted toward me stern on, and, not knowing what else to do, I clung to the rudder. But, realizing that there was nothing there to support me for any length of time, I let go my hold and, keeping close under the side of the ship, waited till the bow drifted to me, then grasped a chain under the bowsprit. There I was better protected from being seen and might cling for a long while.

When day dawned a breeze sprang up, and the ship bove away westward, keeping close to the coast. About sixty miles from Rio they ran her ashore, bow on. Knowing that I should be discovered where I was, I swam back to the rudder, keeping under water all except my eyes, with which I saw the robbers carry the treasure ashore. There were five of them, one with red hair and beard directing their movements. I noted his face and that of every one of them, so that I should know them again. As soon as they got ashore each man started off, staggering under a bag of gold. I gave them time to get a start, then swam to the ladder, climbed aboard and after getting provisions followed them. They were talking most of the time, which enabled me to keep at a safe distance. They moved eastward and after going about ten miles stopped at a deserted hut, went inside and when they came out had left the treasure. I knew they had hidden or buried it inside.

After a hurried lunch from a basket they had brought with them they started on to the eastward, walking rapidly. I felt sure they were going to Rio and wished to get there as soon as possible in order that they should not be missed. Striking a road, they hired a countryman to drive them and were thus lost to me.

However, I made my way to the city and hunted up the crew who had seen the ship sailing away. Soon after they had left the dock to return to her I took them to where the treasure had been placed; then after securing it we went on to the ship, which at high tide we managed to get afloat, and set sail for Rio. I assumed command, appointed two of the best men as mates and on arrival at Rio went ashore alone and to the office of the chief of police. For a week I walked the streets with a detective and visited the dives. On the eighth day I saw two of the men in a saloon. They were arrested, and subsequently the others were also taken in.

I took the ship to New York to her owners and told my story. The owners gave me permanent command, and we made a compromise on salvage at $20,000. ELLIOT WALKER.

MAJESTIC SCENERY.

CURIOUS ROCK FORMATIONS ON THE COLUMBIA RIVER.

The Pillars of Hercules, Two Picturesque Basaltic Columns, Rise From the Oregon Side of the Stream. Towering Mountain Peaks.

The person who gave the name Pillars of Hercules to two picturesque basaltic columns rising from the edge of the Columbia river, in the Cascade range, on the Oregon side of the river, chose a name that was peculiarly appropriate. One of the interesting nuts which the geologists in this country have had to crack has been when and how the majestic Columbia burst through the basaltic Cascade range and found its way to the foaming margin of the Northern Pacific ocean. Who knows if the mighty Hercules—who, according to the ancient Greeks, when returning from the western kingdom of Geryon tore asunder the European and African continents in order that the waters of the Atlantic and the Mediterranean might mingle—did not go beyond Erythia, Geryon's island kingdom, and perform a like service for the Columbia river? It certainly would have been a feat worthy of his prowess. The Columbia river, after pursuing its placid way across the arid wastes of land on the eastern side of the Cascade range for nearly 200 miles, approaches the stately row of mountain peaks and pushes through between the towering peaks, Mounts Hood and Adams. After descending in a boiling cascade, from which it is said that the range of peaks derives its name, the Columbia, or, as it has often been called, the Oregon, rolls between ever widening banks to the white bulwark erected by the turbulent sea across its mouth.

One with a good strong arm could throw a stone across the river at the point where it enters the portals of the mountains. Literally the river has turned itself on edge in order to squeeze through. Some distance below this point the river pours over a succession of rugged ledges; then it smilingly passes on its way to the sea. The scenery in this cut through the mountains is thought by some to rival in sublimity that to be found anywhere in the world. Pinnacles of volcanic rock tower toward the heavens. On them have lodged seeds carried thither by the wind or birds. From these seeds trees have germinated. These cling to the rocks with a remarkable tenacity, and some of them, one would think, have a precarious living. On the very summit of one of these Pillars of Hercules a single representative of the evergreen trees which abound on the western slope of the Cascades elevates its foliage with all the impudent audacity and farcical diminutiveness of a clown's stovepipe hat. There it stands as securely fastened and its foliage as rakishly inclined as the hat on the clown's brow. What depth of soil it has in which to plant its roots doubtless not many know, for the ascent of the column has probably been accomplished by few. It is said that in the early days of commerce on the Columbia, when sailing ships plowed their way up the stream into the heart of the country, the yardarms would often become entangled in the branches of the trees which overhung the water. To the sailors after their long sojourn at sea it was like entering paradise. Beautiful waterfalls add to the charm of the scene. They come pouring as if from the sky over precipices 800 feet high and, hidden in mist, plunge into the serene bosom of the great river.

There are a number of other striking formations of basaltic columns besides the Pillars of Hercules. There are battlemented castles, rounded domes and a thousand rocks of other fantastic shapes. One group of pinnacles, down which numerous small streams descend, is called Cape Horn. Dominating the scene everywhere through this region are the two extinct volcanoes, snow-capped warders of the pass, Mount Adams on the north and Mount Hood on the south.

The Indians have a legend as to the origin of the obstructions to navigation which form the cascades. They say that the two earth giants, the mountains, jealous of each other's power, once quarreled furiously. They belched forth fire and smoke and hurled great stones at each other. Some of these stones passed across the river, while many others fell into the stream. In the fiery conflict a roof of rock which spanned the river was broken into fragments. The lodging of all these fragments and stones in the stream created the cascades.

The white man has several theories. One is that the ledge of solid rock over which the current sweeps was deposited by a great rockslide down the sides of the gorge. These mountain sides are wildernesses of broken crags extending to the summits, 3,000 feet high. The ledge is crowned with large bowlders so great that the massy body of water cannot move them.—New York Tribune.

Against Her Principles.

"Don't you think," asked Mrs. Oldcastle, "that everybody is affected more or less by environment?"

"Yes," replied Mrs. Packenham, "if they're foolish enough to take such things, but I always turn down my glass and never touch it."—Chicago Record-Herald.

Accidents—Rev. Dick Runs Sharp Stick in Foot—Lady Thrown From Automobile.

Mrs. H. B. Hoechst of East Berlin was driving home one evening last week when one of the traces became unhooked and horse frightened. The lady ran horse into a fence where he got loose and upset buggy, but she fortunately escaped without a scratch.

Rev. Dick of Reading township while engaged in some work about his buildings was unfortunate to have his left foot come in contact with a sharp pointed stick which penetrated 1 1-2 inches into the ankle joint, striking a nerve and tendon. Drs. H. B. Hoechst and Kennedy were called and gave him relief from the intense pain.

An automobile going down a grade near Abbottstown struck an obstruction and one of the young ladies was thrown out and received an ugly cut on forehead and arm. Dr. T. C. Miller attended her injuries. A young man in attempting to save lady was thrown out but escaped with slight bruises.

Charles, son of Isaiah Diller of New Oxford tripped and fell while along Conowago creek, last week. His head struck a rock inflicting a large cut on side of his head requiring several stitches to close.

A York county man is responsible for the assertion that in some seasons apple wood to the value of $20,000 is shipped out of York and Adams counties. This man has been in business for years of buying apple trees in the spring and shipping the logs to a dealer and is said to have amassed a small fortune in the business.

Apple wood is made into pipe bowls, saw, chisel and auger handles, banjo and violin keys, necks for banjo's and violins, mallet heads and gavels and a variety of other uses. As boxing for shafting it is unexcelled by any other wood it is claimed. The demand for apple wood has been growing steadily in the last 30 years and prices for wood have advanced also.

The spring is the time buyers of apple wood appear, as it is the time orchard trees on the farm are cut down that have ceased to be fruitful. The farmer who knows the value of apple wood, saves the trunk and larger limbs of all apple trees that must be cut down for the buyer of the apple log.

Advice About Eggs.

A writer in the Delineator gives some sensible advice about eggs. There is a general impression that eggs, acknowledged to be a complete food, may be safely eaten on all occasions. On the contrary, as the writer alluded to points out, invalids and young children should never be given eggs unless they are very fresh. Persons suffering from biliousness, gastritis and several other troubles find difficulty in digesting even fresh eggs. Some physicians declare that the slightest tendency toward rheumatism makes eggs undesirable. The white of eggs whipped to a froth with a little water is a good thing to give fever patients, as a rule, but the physician should be consulted before even this is given to a sick person.

Elevated Rivers.

The most elevated river in the world is the Desaguadero, in Bolivia. It is of a considerable depth, and its whole length, from the village Desaguadero, at the south extremity of Titicaca, to the north end of the lake Aullagas, is about 180 miles. The average elevation of the valley or tableland of Desaguadero above the level of the sea is about 13,000 feet. The river whose source lies highest is the Indus, which rises on the north of the Kailas Parbat mountain, in Tibet, 22,000 feet above sea level.
